Weimar and Nazi Germany, 1918 to 1939, is the modern depth study that focuses on the origins of the Weimar Republic, the challenges it faced and to what extent it overcame those challenges. The course also investigates why and how the Weimar Republic was dismantled by the Nazis and replaced by a Nazi dictatorship. You will focus on crucial events during this period, and study the different social, cultural, political, economic and military changes that occurred.

Purpose
This study enables you to understand the complexities and challenges that the democratic Weimar Republic faced and how it was transformed into a one-party state under the leadership of the Nazis. You will investigate themes such as democracy, revolution, dictatorship, government, propaganda, censorship, economy and society. This course will enable you to develop the historical skills of causation and consequence, and encourage you to analyse and evaluate contemporary sources as well as interpretations of the time period.

Topics
Weimar and Nazi Germany, 1918 to 1939 is split into 4 key topics:

- Topic 1 looks at the Weimar Republic between 1918 and 1929. You will study the origins of the new republic, the political and economic challenges it faced and to what extent it recovered between 1924 and 1929. You will also study how society changed during the ‘Golden Years.’
- Topic 2 looks at the early development of the Nazi Party, the failed Munich Beer Hall Putsch and how the Nazi Party was reorganised afterwards. You will also study the political developments during the Great Depression and why and how Hitler became chancellor of Germany.
- Topic 3 looks at how Hitler and the Nazis dismantled the Weimar democracy, piece by piece, and created a one party dictatorship. You will study the ways in which the Nazis tried to control the hearts and minds of the German people using propaganda and censorship to control all aspects of life.
- Topic 4 looks at life in Nazi Germany and the Nazi policies towards women, children, education and the unemployed. You will study how living standards changed. The persecution of different minorities will also be explored.

Key Individuals
Some of the key individuals studied on this course include:
- Adolf Hitler.
- Friedrich Ebert.
- Paul von Hindenburg.
- Gustav Stresemann.
- Rosa Luxemburg.
- Wolfgang Kapp.

Key Events
Some of the key events you will study on this course include:
- The effects of the Treaty of Versailles on Germany.
- The French and Belgian occupation of the Ruhr, 1923.
- The impact of the Great Depression on Germany.
- Hitler becoming chancellor.
- The creation of the Nazi police state and the setting up of the Gestapo.
- The establishment of the Hitler Youth and the League of German Maidens.
- The Nazi persecution of the Jews such as the Nuremberg Laws.

Assessment
Weimar and Nazi Germany, 1918–1939 is paper 3 where you have a total of 1 hour and 20 minutes to complete. There will be 3 exam questions which will assess what you have learnt. Question 3 will be broken down into a, b, c and d. You answer all questions.

Question 1 is worth 4 marks. This question will require you to make two inferences from a source that answers the question asked. You will need to support each inference with relevant detail from the source. This could be in the form of a quote, detail from a visual source or by paraphrasing what the source states.
Question 2 is worth 12 marks. This question will require you to explain why an event occurred. You need to identify three reasons, support each one with accurate and relevant factual detail that is precisely selected and then clearly explain how each cause made the event happen.

Question 3a is worth 8 marks. This question asks you to explain how useful two sources are for a specific enquiry using the content of the source, the provenance of the source and your own contextual knowledge.

Question 3b is worth 4 marks. This question asks you to identify the main difference in the views of two historical interpretations on a specific topic. You have to support the main difference with details from both interpretations.

Question 3c is worth 4 marks. This question asks you to suggest one reason why the views of the two historical interpretations might be different. You have to support the main difference with details from both interpretations and you could use the sources from question 3a to help you answer the question.

Question 3d is worth 16 marks and an additional 4 marks for spelling, punctuation and grammar. This question asks you to explain how far you agree with one of the interpretations. In your explanation you have to evaluate both interpretations, using your own knowledge of the historical context to come to your conclusion.

IMPACT OF THE FIRST WORLD WAR ON GERMANY

The First World War had a huge impact on Germany's society, politics and economy.

What happened with Germany and the First World War?
The First World War had a huge impact on Germany's society, politics and economy.

How did Germany enter the First World War?
The following 3 key events led to Germany entering the First World War.

- Germany declared war on Russia on the 1st August, 1914.
- After Germany invaded France via Belgium, Great Britain declared war on Germany on the 4th August.
- This was followed by the Ottoman Empire (Turkey) joining the war a few months later, in October, where it supported Germany.

How was Germany affected by the First World War?
Germany was affected in 3 key ways:

- Germany was economically damaged and the country's debt increased to 150 billion marks.
- They were affected socially with two million troops and approximately 763,000 civilians dead.
- They were affected politically with many groups attempting to seize power, the Kaiser's abdication and Germany becoming a republic.

How did the First World War affect people socially in Germany?
Germany was badly hit by the war because of the Allied Naval Blockade that stopped supplies getting into Germany during the war, and remained in place until the signing of the Treaty of Versailles, leaving many starving and ill.

How many casualties did the First World War claim in Germany?
They had a high casualty rate with approximately two million dead soldiers.

- Some 600,000 women were left as widows.
- The war also took its toll on civilians, with approximately 763,000 people dying from starvation.
- The gap between rich and poor had grown as a result of the war and increased social divisions.
- Over 1 and a half million soldiers returned home following the war, many struggling to adapt back to civilian life and accept defeat.

What happened to Germany's economy after the First World War?
There were 7 significant negative effects on the economy:

- By 1918, industrial production was reduced by a third from 1913 levels.
- Fuel was short as a result of the war and consequently 300,000 people died from hypothermia.
- The government's budget was stretched by paying pensions to the 600,000 widows and 2 million orphans left after the war.
- Germany's debt was 50 billion German marks in 1914. This rapidly increased to 150 billion by 1918.
- Germany was bankrupt as it had spent all its gold reserves on the war.
- Inflation increased as a result of the weak German mark so the prices of goods were increasing.
- Germany was forced to begin interim payments to the Allies immediately after armistice was signed.

What happened to Germany politically at the end of the First World War?

There were 5 important political effects:

- There was massive political unrest with uprisings and strikes, such as the naval mutiny in Kiel in October, 1918.
- The unrest spread to become the German Revolution (p.0) began, with huge consequences for the government and constitution of Germany.
- A communist state was declared in Bavaria on 7th November, 1918.
- The kaiser lost control and abdicated.
- The new Weimar Republic (p.0) was created, and by signing the Treaty of Versailles, was greatly resented by the German people.

What were the events of the revolution in Germany before the end of the First World War?

There were 10 main events that occurred during the German Revolution (p.0):

- The allies offered Germany an armistice to end the war. Part of their deal included that Germany become a democracy and the Kaiser should abdicate.
- The kaiser declined these terms, wishing to continue with the war.
- In response, the German Navy mutinied at the end of October 1918, refusing to follow the Kaiser's orders.
- Soon a domino effect occurred and by November 1918, there were demonstrations and strikes all across Germany and a communist state declared in Bavaria.
- On the advice of his government and the army, Kaiser Wilhelm abdicated on 9th November, 1918 and fled to the Netherlands.
- Philipp Scheidemann, a member of the Social Democratic Party (SPD), announced that Germany was a republic to prevent a communist government being declared on 9th November, 1918.
- Prince Max von Baden stepped down as the kaiser's chancellor. Friedrich Ebert, the leader of the SPD, took over as the chancellor of Germany.
- On 10th November, 1918, Ebert suspended the Reichstag (parliament) and formed the Council of People's Representatives to run the country until a new constitution was written.
- Germany signed a ceasefire or armistice with the Allies on 11th November, 1918 to end the fighting in the First World War.
- In January 1919, there were elections to the Constituent Assembly, or National Assembly, which would decide on the new constitution.
